DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US 6,207,475 (Lin). Lin teaches a solderable substrate having an adhesive material applied to a portion of the solid solder element so as to overlap with the solderable substrate outside of a predefined area reserved for subsequent component placement (fig. 5f, items 48 and 84), the adhesive material immobilizing the solid solder element during reflow (col. 10, l. 12-32); the adhesive material not contacting the component (feature 56 and 60, or, alternatively, interpreted to be an intended use of the solderable substrate); the adhesive material overlapping the solderable substrate and the solid solder element, the adhesive material cured so as to immobilize the solid solder element; and the component subsequently being coupled to the solderable substrate via the solid solder element during a reflow process (col. 10, ll. 10-65); wherein the component is at least one of mechanical, electrical, and electromechanical components (abstract); wherein the adhesive material is characterized by a predetermined application viscosity, predetermined volume reduction during the reflow process, retention of adhesive qualities during the reflow process, and an inability to mix with the solid solder element during the reflow process (col. 10, ll. 10-65).

Application/Control Number: 10/786,578

Art Unit: 1725

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues Lin teaches the underfill material touches the IC die. The examiner agrees. Applicant argues Lin does not teach the claim limitation "the adhesive material not contacting the component." The examiner disagrees. In the instant case, the examiner interprets the component to be features 56 and 60, not feature 44. Alternatively, what the material contacts is merely an intended use and does not distinguish it from the prior art structure.
